About Basic Service Demat Account (BSDA)

SEBI vide Circular - CIR/MRD/DP/20/2015, dated 11th December 2015, has guided all Depository Participants (DPs) to convert all eligible Demat accounts to Basic Services Demat Account (BSDA), unless such account holders opt to continue to avail the facility of a regular Demat account.

Eligibility Criteria for BSDA defined by SEBI:

An individual can have only one Demat account, where he/she is either sole or first holder in the Demat account. Individuals having a Demat account where they are not the first holder, shall be eligible for BSDA where they are either sole or first holder in the Demat account. Individuals can hold only one BSDA in their name, across Depositories. Value of securities held in the Demat account should not exceed a sum of Rs.2, 00,000 at any point of time. The value of holdings is computed on the basis of daily closing price OR the NAV of the MF units.
